Health and Physical Education here at SIS@Vung

August is the month of fitness in SIS – Vung Tau’s HPE department. All students engage in a variety of fun and educational ways to improve their fitness while learning. The aim of this program is to help students first understand the importance of physical activity and secondly to help them improve in areas they struggle with doing.

Building on this approach, students went off campus to do some jogging at a local park and it was very refreshing for students to participate, motivate and encourage each other to reach the finish line.

IELTS Results: 8.0

“I was quite scared of doing poorly on the IELTS test when I was first informed of the testing date. I had one month to prepare so I had to make it count. Every day that month, I studied for two hours a day with my limited resources. I did many practice tests for reading and listening and attended briefings on writing and speaking tips. On the day of the IELTS test, I was quite confident with my skills because of all the practice and my experience learning at SIS@Vung Tau. I was very anxious while waiting for my results. They even delayed it for nearly a week! I was targeting a 7.5, but I managed to get an 8.0, which I was extremely happy with, and I am proud of myself for getting that score.” – Tyler Watson IGCSE 2

Good News - The Heart Surgery Clinic is Back in Operation!

The new academic year at Singapore International School – Vung Tau has begun with good news.

Our Year 8 International Heart Clinic, located on the 4th floor in our science laboratory, is back in operation, having carried out three successful heart operations so far this term. Last week, Year 8 International students dissected a collection of hearts, to learn more about the circulatory system and how the heart operates.

The lead surgeons were doctors Malinda, Adam, Wendy, Lisa and Jannelle. Doctors monitoring the blood flow as the operation progressed included Dr. Anna, Dr. Susan and Dr. Mahira. Two surgeons - Dr. Ben and Dr. Daisy, were tasked with CT scanning and prevention of clotting.

The operation was a success, and the medical team is looking forward for their first successful heart transplant next term. Meanwhile, the medical team is wishing you a humorous term ahead.

Welcome to the new school year!

How did our new school year start?

“As the first year of secondary school, we were quite worried at first because we didn't know how we would study at the new level. However, all our worries turned into joy when we were able to see our friends and teachers again after a long summer break. The secondary program has many interesting activities and our dedicated teachers make every day at our school a happy day. Let's study, have fun together, and achieve many achievements during school year 2023-2024!”
